

Hemp

Cablevey Conveyors is a manufacturing company that develops and builds state-of-the-art enclosed stainless steel cable and disc mechanical systems used to convey food and specialty ingredient materials.

Industrial Hemp

Cablevey Industrial Hemp Conveyor is suitable for moving all sorts of industrial hemp forms such as hemp pellets, hurd, seed, and bud. No matter what form your hemp is in, we can move it in a gentle and sanitary manner. Cablevey Conveyors are custom designed to fit your processing facility and needs

Hemp Pellets

Pellets and pelletizing comes with their own unique issues – extrusion is an additive process therefore there are considerations related to sizing, compressed weight, sturdiness, breakability, and packaging preparation. Our conveyors are specially built, customized and scaled for moving fragile materials that have value. Your specialty materials are our only consideration. From design to execution of our specialized custom conveyors we engineer solutions to avoid smashing, crunching, shearing, or generation of additional fines.

Cablevey Conveyors are custom designed to fit your processing facility and needs.
